Goal, Content and Literature In Module 1

Goal:

The students are taught basic knowledge about materialistic, artistic, theoretical and cultural characteristics of artistic mediums in practical in theoretical ways. They acquire basic practical artistic knowledge and technical abilities in the related media. The starting point for the development of an autonomous artistic approach is their experimental research and individual artistic intention. The students acquire the competence to differentiate fundamental artistic terms theoretically and practically and assess them in terms of quality.

Content:

The material and related foundation of artistic media and their possibilities are taught and tried out.

In their own experimental studies, the students develop a workflow through artistic means in different areas and media, while mainly dealing with color, area, space, form, material, movement and time.

The results are presented, reflected and discussed regularly in plenaries, colloquia, and presentations. An interdisciplinary exchange takes place through co-teaching and tutoring.

There are substantial theoretical parts included in the theory-practice-seminars, to be found in the study related modules FK1 to FK7, in which the students of Fine Art are also participating.

Goal, Content and Literature In Module 3

Goal:

The Students acquire extended knowledge in the specific techniques and procedures of the artistic media and gain insight into their comparativeness related to material, concept and result. Different artistic strategies and methods, as well as their theoretical backgrounds and contexts, are reflected upon. Intermedial work and the understanding of experimental, interactive and innovative concepts are encouraged. The gained skills form the foundation for autonomous formulation and imagery.

Content:

Through the artistic work of the students, practical and theoretical abilities and knowledge is developed and conveyed. These are tested, questioned and investigated concerning their artistic work, to develop individual artistic strategies and procedures and use these in their artistic work. Starting point is the artistic intention and work of the students. The results are shown, reflected and discussed in plenums and presentations. The mentoring of the students takes place in single as well as group conversations.

There are substantial theoretical parts included in the theory-practice-seminars, to be found in the study related modules FK1 to FK7, in which the students of Fine Art are also participating.

Goal, Content and Literature in Module P1

Goal

The students can autonomously work on a given task and present their results. They are able to justify their project experiences and reflect upon these. The students gain communicative competence through the artistic project work, which is reflected in the accompanying seminar. They learn about models of active listening and non-violent communication. They get to know feedback systems and learn how to use them. They possess basic abilities and knowledge of documentation and description of aesthetic processes and can present these in a portfolio as well as verbally.

Content

The students start their studies with a project week, in which they work on a specific aesthetic task in teams. They are supervised and supported by teaching staff through co-teaching. Followed by an introduction into techniques of presentation and documentation, they create a portfolio. The students learn about the fundamentals of artistic research and its location in epistemology. They learn about participatory research approaches. Subject of the related theory-practice-seminars are models of feedback culture, non-violent communication, and active listening.

Goal, Content and Literature in Module F1

Goal

The students know the fundamentals of academic work and use this regarding the production of module examinations. They know the knowledge base of the fundamental, as well as the relational studies, which are relevant to their field. They particularly know the fundamentals of social and educational science as a chosen professional perspective. Consequently, they are able to use their scientific knowledge and reflect their professional orientation interdisciplinary. They get to know historical and current perspectives and positions of different disciplines and subjects, and can process these through concrete questioning.

The overall goal of this module is the development of scientific competences, esp. sound reflection and communication capabilities.

Content

In Modul F1 the fundamentals of academic work are taught, as well as different epistemologies and their application.

Apart from the obligatory seminars, the students can choose from a range of classes in basic as well as related studies, relevant to their field. Examples for seminars in the Studium Fundamentale are: Art theoretically valid models of interpretation, Phenomenology of perception, Types of teaching and learning.

Literature:

Will be announced in the seminars.

Goal, Content and Literature in Module P2

Goal

The students can apply their acquired artistic knowledge and skills to a specific artistic interdisciplinary project. They are able to work in groups with students from all study fields as well as plan, execute and present a free artistic, art therapeutical or work-related project (e.g. Theater in business establishments, Projects in a psychiatric ward, Art in public spaces or art institutions, Art therapy in clinics,...).

They can reflect on their artistic work concerning the contents of the project related seminars. They can offer different perspectives concerning their work. They understand the basic steps of planning, executing and securing the results of projects. They have media competences at the interface between the arts and the sciences relevant to their studies.

In the artistic interdisciplinary projects and the following project forum, the students learn about problems and approaches during the planning and execution phase of projects in social contexts. They form peer consulting groups and profit from different ideas, impulses, and experiences. The forum offers help during the ongoing project planning and executing. The students learn to counsel and support each other.

Content

The students choose from different projects offered by teachers of the university in their area of research or plan their own interdisciplinary projects. The students plan their project with the help of various artistic mediums and types. They are accompanied by various teachers through co-teaching. They describe and document their projects and reflect on these amid project-specific theory models and fundamental thoughts in project management.

The project forum included in the module, offers students and teachers a platform to exchange project related experiences in the various praxis fields of the involved areas of study.

Goal, Content and Literature in Module F2

Goal:

The students know the fundamentals of the social and educational science as a chosen professional perspective in their future occupational fields. They can reflect on their artistic and scientific experiences and knowledge. They can reflect on their professional orientation interdisciplinarily. They learn how to deal with artistic processes and the scientific sources relevant to their field of study and can work on a specific question.

Content:

The focus of module F2 is on the advancement of scientifically justified reflection capability. Different scientific perspectives of the current society and fundamental problems of the human self-conception are being connected productively. The module serves the training of the reflection competences, related to aesthetic perception and the practice of power of judgment. It provides knowledge of the theoretical and methodical fundamentals of the arts and science beyond the borders of their particular discipline. It trains the interaction with complex communicative processes and leads to the acquirement of communicative competence in view of societal fields. Apart from the obligatory seminars, the students can choose from a range of classes in basic as well as related studies, relevant to their field of studies. Examples for seminars in the Studium Fundamentale are: Art theoretically valid models of interpretation, Phenomenology of perception, Types of teaching and learning.

Goal:

The students are empowered to theoretically and practically develop and realize artistic concepts, especially while considering interdisciplinary methods. They have knowledge of historical pictorial forms and current discourses in artistic works, and have an advanced understanding of the societal and cultural context. The prioritization in the subject groups is here not seen as a limitation but rather as a base model.

Content:

Based on the artistic intention and works of the students, the ability to develop and create autonomous artistic concepts in one or more artistic disciplines or intermedial processes is developed. The necessary practical and theoretical knowledge are developed and an intensive analysis with the technical and artistic problems of the respective media takes place. The results are shown, reflected and discussed in plenums and presentations. The mentoring of the students takes place in single as well as group conversations. There are substantial theoretical parts included in the theory-practice-seminars, to be found in the study related modules FK1 to FK7, in which the students of Fine Art are also participating.

Goal:

The students are empowered to theoretically and practically develop and realize artistic concepts, especially while considering interdisciplinary methods. They have knowledge of historical pictorial forms and current discourses in artistic works, and have an advanced understanding of the societal and cultural context. The prioritization in the subject groups is here not seen as a limitation but rather as a base model.

Content:

Based on the artistic intention and works of the students, the ability to develop and create autonomous artistic concepts in one or more artistic disciplines or intermedial processes is developed. The necessary practical and theoretical knowledge are developed and an intensive analysis with the technical and artistic problems of the respective media takes place. The results are shown, reflected and discussed in plenums and presentations. The mentoring of the students takes place in single as well as group conversations. There are substantial theoretical parts included in the theory-practice-seminars, to be found in the study related modules FK1 to FK7, in which the students of Fine Art are also participating.

Goal, Content and Literature in Module 7

Goal:

The students develop autonomous artistic positions in one or more disciplines. They strengthen their position and show a competent handling in proving their intention and result. The work is presented publicly.

Content:

The artistic work of the students is practically and theoretically supported and reflected. The results are shown in work plenums and presentations, discussed and critically reviewed in regards to historical and time-related positions. A final presentation as part of the bachelor thesis takes place. The mentoring of the students takes place in single as well as group conversations. There are substantial theoretical parts included in the theory-practice-seminars, to be found in the study related modules FK1 to FK7, in which the students of Fine Art are also participating.

Goal:

The students acquire medial and content-related competences for artistic processes while dealing with the "operating system art". Strategies and methods for competent statements and the consequences of the own artistic production are reflected upon in the professional practice. The students gain basic competences in dealing with entrepreneurial self-employment.

Content:

The students gain theoretical and practical knowledge of the "operating system art" (sponsorship, exhibitions, committees, and institutions with their organizational structure). They thematize the construction of item structures and the assessment of application qualification.

They become familiar with the topics of publications, media competence, network, and its practical use. They gain basic knowledge of entrepreneurial self-employment (Tax law, Copyright, German Civil Code, Social law/Artist Social Insurance, General Business Administration, Project management, Exhibition techniques, Acquisition, Advertising, Logistics, Organisation)

Goal, Content and Literature in Module F3

Goal:

The students know the fundamentals of the social and educational science as a chosen professional perspective on their future occupational fields. They can reflect on their artistic and scientific experiences and knowledge. They can reflect on their professional orientation interdisciplinarily. They learn how to deal with artistic processes and the scientific sources relevant to their field of study and can work on a specific question.

Content:

The focus of module F3 is on the scientifically justified reflection capability. Different scientific perspectives of the current society and fundamental problems of the human self-conception are productively being connected. The module serves the training of the reflection competences, related to aesthetic perception and the practice of power of judgment. It provides knowledge of the theoretical and methodical fundamentals of the arts and science beyond the borders of their particular discipline. It trains the interaction with complex communicative processes and leads to the acquirement of communicative competence in view of societal fields. Apart from the obligatory seminars, the students can choose from a range of classes in basic as well as related studies, relevant for their field of studies. Examples for seminars in the Studium Fundamentale are: Art theoretically valid models of interpretation, Phenomenology of perception, Types of teaching and learning.

Literature:

Will be announced in the seminars.

Goal, Content and Literature in Module IS

Goal

The module gives students the possibility to develop an individual profile in regards to their specific professional orientation. It promotes the mobility of the students through the creditability of foreign credit points.

In the position forum, students get to know current artistic and scientific positions given the implementation in the Arts in Social Contexts. They learn about discipline-specific and interdisciplinary discourses and how to reflect upon these in regards to their professional field. Through that, the position forum offers insights into the self-organization of the studies. The research forum enables the students to research and apply methods and approaches autonomously, in recourse to specific research questions, as they arise from professional practice modules and conceptional observations of the artistic and scientific final theses.

Content

In the module, the courses from different areas are combined to profiled course sequels, which allows students who for example change their major to purposefully acquire competences in regards to enrolling in the Master program "Art and Theater in Social Contexts (M.A./M.F.A.). The position forum and research forum are also located within the module. The position forum takes place in the form of lectures and lecture series, which are complemented by discussion forums. The research forum offers a platform for the exchange of research perspectives from different disciplinary approaches.

Remarks

The crediting of credit points acquired at other universities and competences acquired in other professional fields is possible.

Literature

Will be announced in the seminars.

Goal, Content and Literature in Module 9

Goal:

In a presentation, the students show their gained competences to execute, critically reflect and document an artistic project within a given deadline.

Content:

The students conceptualize and execute an artistic project autonomously. The project can be realized in different artistic, social or cultural contexts. It can be carried out in a team, provided that single components of the work can be assigned accordingly. Concept and realization of the work is to be documented in written and visual form. The work is completed with a public presentation, documentation, and colloquium.
